

Picture: Pascal Debrunner on Unsplash

DID YOU SAY FLOWERS?

OR PLANTS?

If you lived in Leipzig (Germany), for example, you wouldn't say flowers but you would say "Bärlauch", that is you would probably recognize this plant which makes the whole wood smell in spring like garlic!

Picture: Cesar Carlevarino Aragon on Unsplash

DID YOU SAY TOOLS?

OR WHERE YOU MORE

SPECIFIC, LIKE: SAW, PLIER,

HAMMER...

How many could you identify?

No experience with tools ? No technical terms to describe what you see? In any language there is specialised vocabulary.

You learn it, when you

- work or study in a certain field (like architecture, botany, physics etc.)
- dive deep into a certain activity (like sports, music or other hobbies).