This unit starts with the story of Malala, who is a girl who has fought with her life to gain access to school. You will find five tips to conduct a good interview and write a life story. The interview question is: why is school important?

Share your thoughts with your buddy:

Why do adults think that schools/educational settings are important places?

Read the text on Malala and choose your favourite quote!

Buddy work!

Present your quote to your buddy and explain whether you support it or oppose it.

Carry out these steps with your buddy:

Step 1

Read these 5 tips for an effective interview!

Step 2

Choose an adult (educator, volunteer, parent, advisor) you would like to interview about why school/ educational settings are important places?

Done?

Step 3

Plan the interview according to the tips you have read:

- Write 4 questions.
- Use question words such as: who, what, when, how, why, whether, despite, etc.
- You can also use words of instruction, such as: describe, explain, compare, emphasize Conduct the interview!

Set the time and find a quiet place for the interview.

The interview should take around 10-15 minutes.

Bring your questions to the interview and record their voice with a phone or a recorder (if you don't have any, ask your educator!).

When you are done, write a post that reflects your conclusion on the importance / influence of school on children around the world.

If you want your content to be in the KIDS4ALL gallery, please ask your educator to upload it in the work.it area.

How is the school system in the country you live in?

Get informed and prepare a scheme!

How was getting informed about the education system? How was it to reflect on education in general?
