

Hanna's big dream is coming true:
she will spend a whole school-year in the U.S.A.

Her host family is very nice, the city is great!

The first few days fly by.

Then the school starts... Unfortunately, Hanna's language skills are not enough to understand and participate.

She misses the food she was used to eat...

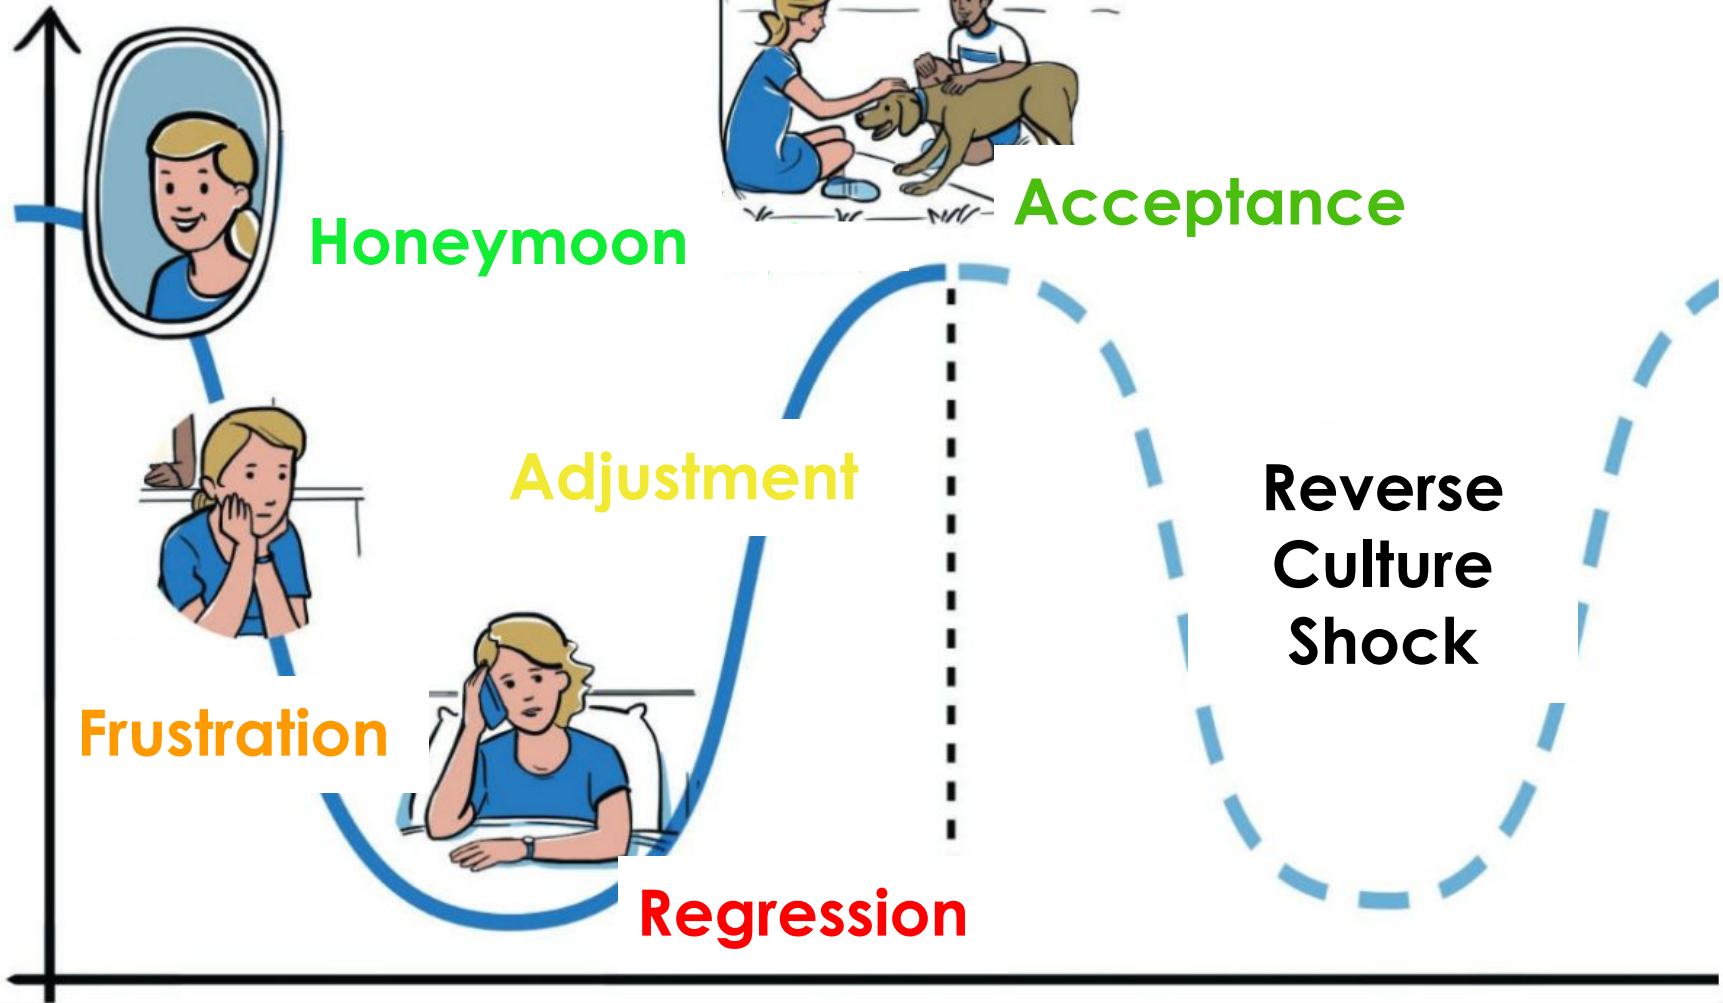

She feels like a stranger, she is homesick. "Oh, how beautiful Berlin was!"

Hanna meets Thiago from Brazil,
he shares with her his own experience,

he gives her tips and tells her about the 5 stages of culture shock...

Hanna has noticed for some time now that she feels better every day...

... again, she feels like discovering her new home and is confident when it comes to meeting new people!
